Mayor stands pat on school board budget

Long Beach Mayor Donnie Simmons remained firm this week in his contention last Sunday that the school district budget was the object of poor management and contained "too much fat."

Simmons made his charges last Sunday before a group of about 100 Long Beach residents and said that he was in favor of reducing the tax assessed valuation in the district by whatever amount was necessary to get the budget in line with "realistic assessments". Simmons said that he was backed by a majority of the council, though his feelings were not unanimous.

Simmons said Tuesday that he wanted to make clear that he did not intend to imply that the five-member school board was deliberately wasting tax money when he made his charges, but rather that the inflated budget was the object of mismanagement.

"They are just not as familiar with the school system as we feel they should be," Simmons said, referring to the five member board.

School superintendent Thomas L. Reeves said Tuesday that board member James Baker, had been appointed by the board to find a qualified certified public accountant to perform a separate audit and that he would make his recommendations to the board at its next regular meeting on Feb. 12.

The board has a quarterly audit presently done by Shuhardt Bookkeeping Service in Long Beach which was just completed Dec. 31, but Reeves indicated this was not a CPA firm.

Reeves said that he was in favor of a complete audit covering everything from the cafeteria to Title I funds.

Mayor Simmons said he also favored a separate CPA firm performing an audit. "There's some areas that can be reduced," he said. "They know that and we know it."

Simmons has demurred from naming specific examples of money mismanagement by the board. "Out of professional courtesy," he said, "I am going to five them (the board) first opportunity to explain these things themselves."

Simmons said that he has no timetable for performing any audit but felt the board should move as quickly as possible. "The sooner we get this thing started the better," he said.

He indicated that regardless of what the audit showed he intended to proceed with attempts to reduce the tax valuation to the schools. He brushed aside opposition during last Sunday's public meeting at Jeff Davis Elementary School.

"I'd say only about one percent or less of the total population are against reducing the tax," he said.

Those disagreeing with the mayor included attorney Pete Carrubba and Alderman Bob Richards. Carrubba warned that the city's borrowing capacity could be seriously affected if the city started changing its assessment structure.

Richards said that he would resist any efforts to reduce the tax valuation and would attempt instead to raise it. He claimed schools in Long Beach ranked 60th in the state in per capita expenditure in 1973 spending $609.21 per pupil in comparison to a number one rating in 1958-59 when the per-pupil expenditure was $238.11.

Johnson Shaw dies in Crane Creek home

Johnson Shaw, 73, a native and life-long resident of Hancock County and a former member of the County board of supervisors, died at 2:30 a.m. Monday, January 28 at his home in Crane Creek.

Born June 28, 1900 in Crane Creek, he was the son of the late Calvin and Centh Ladner Shaw.

He had also served as a member of the executive committee of the Mississippi Supervisors Association and was a member of the Hancock County Farm House Administration until 1973.

He was a member of the Crane Creek Baptist Church and was a Mason and a Shriner.

Fla. fugitive captured in Hancock county chase

A fugitive from Harrison county and Florida authorities was arrested early Tuesday morning in Hancock county by a tenacious highway safety patrolman after a five hour wait at the highway's edge.

George Julius Manders, 32, who gave police a Dubuque, Iowa address, was arrested about 3:30 a.m. Tuesday by

Home damaged by vandals

Waveland police are investigating the vandalism of a Whispering Pines home with damage to the exterior and interior of the house estimated at $8,000.

The incident was reported Jan. 23 by a neighbor who told police that a large section of a brick wall in front of the house had been demolished. The residence at 117 Whispering Pines has been unoccupied for some time.

Inside, investigating officers discovered light fixtures torn out of ceilings and smashed, paint strewn on carpeting and walls, large holes punched or kicked in the walls and extensive other acts of vandalism. Preliminary action has been taken by Waveland authorities for apprehension of the persons responsible.

Highway Patrolman Clyde Hester as Manders emerged from a densely wooded area on highway 90 near the NASA test site.

Early Monday evening Hester had chased Manders and a male companion west on the highway after the men, driving a tan panel truck belonging to Riemann Funeral Home in Gulfport, had run through a radar track at 75 miles per hour, Hester reported.

At a point near an asphalt plant, the truck ran off the highway and stopped at the woods edge where the two men leaped out of the truck and fled into the thicket. Hester tracked the men with his K-9 trained dogs until one disappeared into waist deep swamp water. Returning to the highway, he waited beside the road until 3:30 when Manders appeared.

Manders was booked at Hancock county jail on charges of auto theft and later turned over to Harrison county authorities in connection with the earlier theft of the funeral home vehicle. Highway Patrol special investigator Travis Loft verified that Manders was wanted by Florida authorities as a parole violator. Manders' companion was still at large by press time.

New company locates at Port and Harbor park

A new company will establish operations immediately at the Hancock County Port and Harbor industrial park following a contractual agreement reached at a special P&H meeting Monday night.

City coffers boosted

Ad valorem taxes and franchise payments made to Hancock County and its municipalities by the Mississippi Power Company totaled $165,856.52 in 1973, according to local manager Perry Gibson. Ad valorem taxes and franchise payments to the city of Bay St. Louis were $51,600.34 and to the city of Waveland were $16,997.59.

Figures released by Victor J. Daniel, Jr., company president, show that Mississippi Power paid over $7.4 million to the state in 1973 in franchise payments and ad valorem taxes, reflecting in part an increase in the area's use of electric power and the effect of construction and expansion. Daniel said that almost $5.7 million of the payments were for ad valorem taxes. Franchise payments in excess of $1.7 million, representing three percent of Mississippi Power Company's gross revenues in the incorporated cities and towns in which the utility operates, were paid directly to the municipalities.

Bay schools get private patrol

A special security officer is patrolling Bay-Waveland public schools on a full time basis through recent action by the school board, Superintendent J.D. McCulloch stated.

Constable Willie Carbonette has been retained to patrol the four school sites in Bay-St. Louis and Waveland after school hours in an effort to reduce the increased incidents of break ins and costly burglaries in recent months, McCulloch said.

Tax office resumes regular hours

Bay St. Louis Tax Collector Clarence Ladner said Tuesday that the office of tax collector would resume regular hours effective Monday Feb. 4.

The office will remain open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow, as well as the normal lunch hour, and will be open from 8 a.m. until 12 noon on Saturday.

A TENDER TOUCH — Bernard Calloway, 19, Ocean Springs (right) and another unidentified youth try to comfort Sharon Payton, 16, of Ocean Springs until an ambulance arrives. Ms. Payton suffered severe facial lacerations and head injuries after the auto in which she was a passenger along with Calloway and six other youths struck another auto driven by Rhonda V. Crawford, 19, of de Montuzin Ave. in Bay St. Louis at highway 90 and Second St. Friday night. The Ocean Springs youths were returning from a basketball game in Bay St. Louis when the accident occurred.

Five injured in auto crash

An Ocean Springs girl was critically injured and three teenagers hospitalized as a result of a two car collision on Highway 90 Friday night in Bay St. Louis.

A Chevrolet station wagon, filled with seven young people coming from a Bay High basketball tournament, was hit broadside by a Chevrolet sedan at the intersection of Second St. and the highway about 10:45 p.m.

According to investigating Highway Patrolman J. R. Collins, the sedan, driven by Rhonda V. Crawford, 18, of Bay St. Louis, crossed the highway at Second St. and collided with the station wagon traveling east on 90. Miss Crawford and her sister Gwendolyn, 13, the only passenger in the car, were both admitted to Hancock General Hospital with contusions and broken bones. The Crawford car was driven 224 feet over the highway by the impact.

Passenger in the station wagon, Nora Sanky, 17, was given emergency treatment at the Hancock hospital for a severe head wound and possible concussion and was transferred to Howard Memorial Hospital in Biloxi where she underwent surgery about 5 a.m. Saturday morning. Later in the day she was reported still in critical condition by a hospital spokesman. Miss Sanky lives at 1014 Robertson St., Ocean Springs.

Sharon Payton, 16, Ocean Springs, also riding in the front seat of the station wagon was admitted to Hancock General with severe facial injuries.

Other passengers in the station wagon, one of whom was hospitalized, were the driver, Richard O. Thurmond, 20, Hermes Newkirk, Bernard Calloway, Sammy Goldsmith, all 19 and all from Ocean Springs and Wayne Johnson, 18, from Cullen, La.

The Crawford girl was cited for failure to yield right of way on a main thoroughfare.

City told planning a must

A small but select group of community leaders and city officials gathered in Bay St. Louis last week to hear suggestions for improved city planning and management from Victor Frankiewicz, a city planning student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Frankiewicz, who was an honor graduate of St. Stanislaus School, pointed out in reference to strengthening local economy "the best place to do business is where a business can get the most people to come through its front door". It makes sense for business concerns to cluster in one location which tends to attract more "walk-in" trade than an individual store, he stated.

This is the reason cities form central business districts, Frankiewicz said, and the main reason large shopping centers are so profitable. All stores locating together benefit and small stores stand to benefit the most. A small business in an isolated location often can't survive, he said.

Commercial growth in Bay St. Louis in the past decade has centered mainly along the highway, discouraging small businesses. Because development along the highway is geared toward the automobile, a great deal of land area is taken up with roads and large parking lots. Businesses end up with no choice but to spread all over the highway. They can't cluster together in a way that would be beneficial, he continued.

"Shopping centers along the highway take a stab at locating business together, but they don't let small, local merchants take advantage of the business larger stores generate because they are poorly designed for this purpose," Frankiewicz said. Another problem encountered in Bay area highway shopping centers is that the majority are owned by out of town interests, mainly in New Orleans and Baton Rouge. For this reason a large percentage of money spent in shopping center stores with national chains leaves the county rather than recirculating locally and benefiting the local economy.

Frankiewicz suggested development in downtown Bay St. Louis to provide an ideal place for many local merchants to group together and form

Signs point way to Pass Christian

Large pointed arrow directional signs have been placed at intersecting roads between Interstate 10 and Highway 90 leading into Pass Christian, it was announced today by Russell Ringer, president of the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce.

Each sign has a green background with large arrow placed at eye level with the distance to highway 90 clearly indicated. These signs were placed by the joint support of the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce and Mayor Steve Saucier of Pass Christian.

with the active cooperation of the Mississippi State Highway Department. The directional signs have been placed at the following locations:

1-10 and the road marked "Pass Christian-DeLisle (3 miles to Pass Christian), and also at Henderson Avenue at the intersection of the road at Jasper Ladner's Grocery in DeLisle (5 miles to Pass Christian). On the road from 1-10 to Pass Christian by way of Menge Ave. there is now one directional sign at Cuevas Corner and another sign at Firetower Road leading into Menge Avenue.

Where there's smoke, there's trouble

If you see yellow smoke coming out of your house or yard next week, its not fire, its the sewer system, Pass Christian Mayor Steve Saucier is telling city residents.

The city will start an extensive sewer system testing program early next week as part of a study to determine the status of the city's present treatment plant.

The $100,000 plus program, conducted through matching funds from the Environmental Protection Agency, utilizes two relatively revolutionary methods of detecting leaks and other defective conditions in the city's lines.

City crews will work in specific areas blocking off sections of main lines into which a smoke bomb is dropped.

"Anywhere smoke comes out, there's a problem," the mayor explained. Defective areas will be mapped and a fisheye television camera inserted to scrutinize the section of pipe line in trouble.

The method of testing is not only more accurate in diagnosing and pinpointing defects but "it saves tearing up whole sections of the line and streets to find the problem," the mayor pointed out.

The city has a 750,000 gal. per day ground water capacity system now which is perfectly adequate but becomes taxed after periods of excessive rainfall, such as the past two weeks.

The loss of so many homes and buildings after Camille, leaving open, abandoned sewer lines hidden by weeds or rubble, is attributed as a major cause of imbalances in the system.

The upcoming method of "smoking out" these open lines, which catch rain water and street drainage, will greatly facilitate a more accurate study, Saucier said. The main purpose of the study is to determine the feasibility of expanding the present system or construction of a whole new treatment plant.

what would, in effect, be a shopping center. Businesses would not only help each other, but they would be able to draw customers from those who come to use the court house, post office and banks in the area.

Existing parking problems could be overcome, Frankiewicz said.

He continued, "Bay St. Louis is growing out, getting bigger and bigger in land area. In the process, it is leaving a great deal of land under-used; a good deal of land is left vacant and undeveloped.

"This is known as sprawl, and it makes the city more expensive to operate than it needs to be. Much of the city's utility system (the gas, sewage, and water lines) runs by undeveloped property and doesn't produce revenue for the city. Police and fire protection is spread over a larger area than is necessary; the same is true for garbage pickup."

All of these services are inefficient and unnecessarily costly to the tax payer, he stated.

Members of the city council will meet Monday night in city hall with the city Planning and Zoning Commission and the Parks and Playgrounds Comm. to further discuss growth patterns in the Bay as well as possible control programs.

It's Girl Scout cookie time!

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale begins this year on Feb. 1 and ends Feb. 28. Cookies on sale this year include Butter Shorties, Assorted Sandwich, Mint, Peanut Butter, and Chocolate Chip and nut.

The sale will be held throughout Gulf Pines Council, which includes 35 South Mississippi counties. Approximately 35 percent of the profits from the sale stay in troop treasuries, and the balance goes to the upkeep of the girl scout camp, Ita Kana, in Wiggins.

Begun in 1964, built by Seabees stationed in Gulfport, and financed solely by cookie sale profits, the camp covers 339 acres.

The camp is used all year by individual troops and there are three two-week sessions of established camping in summer. This Spring, for the first time, there will be a week-end of camping for Brownies.

A campership program, begun two years ago, entitles the girl who sells the most cookies in her neighborhood to two weeks of camping during summer sessions, absolutely free.

For any information on scouting in Pass Christian, call Mrs. Robert Erichsen, neighborhood chairman.

From the Mayor's desk

STEVE SAUCIER, MAYOR

PASS CHRISTIAN
Last week I mentioned the problems of Pollution and Sewerage and promised to say more this week.

What has happened is that the fecal coliform count in some areas of the Coast has risen astronomically due to the discharge of raw, or at best, improperly treated, sewerage into the Sound or Bay.

I can happily report that our waters are by far the cleanest on the Coast. But, of course, we have fewer people too.

What we must do is eliminate all untreated discharges—that means that we have to work toward having sewerage available to everyone and have everyone connected to it.

The Pass has already started. The first phase of our sewer program gets underway next week. We'll be smoke and television testing the sewer lines for any infiltration, or illegal connections. Don't be alarmed to see bright yellow smoke rising from the roadside, or your yard, or even your house. Where you see smoke, that's where a problem is. After that is finished, some plans and engineering will be finalized for extending and improving the system.

You can be very proud of our sewer system. It has been well kept and operated. It's not physically different from a lot of others. The difference is people. We are fortunate to have people who are proud of.

Defense attorney is Howard McDonnell.

No trial date was set in the case of Doyle C. Clingan, after his attorney Sam Cooper of Picaune, obtained a severance in the case from co-defendant Jimmy D. Smith, indicted with Clingan for the armed robbery of OTIS Snelgrove, a Hancock County man. Clingan entered an innocent plea. No bail was set. Judge Grant fined Robert Gann Smith, 25, of Bay St. Louis $300 and placed him on three years probation after Smith pleaded guilty to possession of a controlled substance Monday.

Trial of Mrs. Emily Getman was set for July 9 after she pleaded innocent to two counts of false pretense last Friday at her arraignment. Defense attorney is Joe Benvenutti.

Michael Schwall, scheduled for trial Jan. 24 for assault and battery with intent to kill, grand larceny, burglary of a dwelling, and burglary and larceny, was referred to Mississippi State Hospital at Whitfield for psychiatric examination on a motion by defense attorney Howard McDonnell.

Prospect good for adequate fuel here

Business and industry representatives attending Electric Energy Conservation Seminars last week examined methods of efficiently using electricity in their operations and were reassured of Mississippi Power Company's determination to meet its customers' essential power needs during the "energy crisis."

An estimated 300 businessmen from throughout southeast Mississippi attended the one-day seminar held Wednesday at Jones County Junior College in Ellisville and on Thursday at the Gulf Coast Junior College Jackson County Campus at Gautier. The seminar was organized by the Engineering and Industrial Research Station, Mississippi State University, and the Mississippi Power Company Commercial and Industrial Sales Departments.

Harry H. Bell, Jr., vice president, engineering and operations, Mississippi Power Company, set the tone of the seminar during a morning address when he said that "the prospects for adequate quantities of fuel necessary for generating electricity at Mississippi Power Company's facilities to supply the needs of customers this winter are very good."

"While we urge conservation of energy through the wise use of electricity, it is the intention of Mississippi Power Company to meet its customers' needs. We are obligated to provide, first, the human needs of customers, and second, the electric energy necessary for economic stability in this area," he emphasized.

Reviewing the company's present fuel status, Bell said that about 70 percent of the heat energy required for generating electricity in 1974 will be provided by coal, 12 percent by fuel oil and propane, and 18 percent by natural gas.

Bay men arrested in Waveland

Two Bay St. Louis men, stopped shortly after midnight Saturday by Waveland police for speeding on Central Ave. in Waveland, were booked at the county jail on charges of possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Jetson Tillman, Jr., 25, Washington St. was stopped by officers as he was driving 50 miles per hour in a 25 mile zone. According to the arresting officers' report, Tillman and his companion, Michael L. Johnson, 24, 612 Booker St., appeared intoxicated but no odor of alcohol.

A search of the vehicle revealed a prescription bottle with traces of marijuana and cigarette papers and a pipe. Johnson had in his possession a lid (plastic bag) of marijuana.

Tillman was booked at Hancock County jail for speeding and possession of marijuana and paraphernalia. Johnson was booked for public drunk and possession of marijuana. Both men have been released on $1,000 property bond each and a preliminary hearing has been scheduled for tonight in Waveland city court.

Arresting officers were Thaddeus Jackson, Ronald Ferrell, Eugene Hughes and Terry Holmes.

IN DISTRESS — Crumbling asphalt and pot holes have made Washington Street almost impassable for an eighth of a mile off of Old Spanish Trail. Residents are complaining that the city has done nothing to repave or repair the street after tearing almost three feet of it up when sewer and water lines were laid over two years ago.

Marine Science institute at Gulf Park is geared to elementary teachers

A Marine Science Institute for Teachers (MSIT), the first such college program in the United States designed to serve public school teachers in grades 1-12, has been approved in the College of Science and Technology at the University of Southern Mississippi, announced Dr. Shelby F. Thames, the college's dean.

"To be located on the USM Gulf Park campus at Long Beach, the purpose of the institute is for developing marine resources of the coastal zone into a coherent pre-service and in-service marine education facility under direction of the USM Department of Science Education," said Dr. Bobby N. Irby, department chairman.

Facilities of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory at Ocean Springs and the Marine Education Center at Point Cadet, Biloxi, are incorporated into the operational design of MSIT. Approved only this past June, MSIT began operations this quarter with Gerald E. Corcoran, curator of the Marine Education Center of GCRL, now teaching a techniques course in marine science at Point Cadet.

Currently, also, personnel are being hired and a curriculum is being developed. Summer workshops and seminars are being planned. In the program, teachers may earn graduate or undergraduate credit.

Briefly stated, objectives of MSIT include:

- Development of a marine science curricula appropriate for the instruction of in-service and pre-service science teachers certified in grades 1-12.
- Organizing a marine science studied (science, economics, sociology, legal, etc.) program consistent with basic marine science content and related research of the coastal zone region.
- Implementation of marine science in elementary and secondary grades of the coastal zone school district.

For additional information, contact Dr. Irby, Southern Station, Box 87, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39401.

Parade rules cited for horses

1. All persons planning to ride a horse in the Nereids parade MUST register by signing an application entry blank and a release.

Energy crisis is real,
Thomas says

At the Jan. 23 meeting of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Mr. H. L. Thomas, Manager Coast Electric Power Association, spoke on the Energy Crisis.

Thomas said questions asked at this point in time may not be answerable later. "We are presently faced with the shattering reality that this great country can experience shortages," he said.

As early as 1952 energy shortages were predicted to the Federal Power Commission, but nothing was done, Thomas noted. Over five years ago the rural electric of America urged energy research and conservation but nothing was done.

In his opinion, Thomas added, the energy crisis is real and must be dealt with realistically.

"Coast electric has pledged support to research projects along with utility companies throughout this country, but it will take time, money and talent, he concluded.

DRANO NEEDED HERE — Carver points to water in ditches "that go nowhere." Residents on Washington street say that the water in these ditches has no place to flow or drain because the city and contractors have not provided for any drainage under new streets being tied into Washington. Heavy rainfalls, they say, cause backups of stagnant water resulting in odor, mosquitoes, and health hazards.

Toothbrushes spotlight Dental week

Every first grade student in the Bay-Waveland city schools will receive a toothbrush and a tablet to detect dental caries through a dental hygiene program conducted by the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary.

In addition, a poster contest will be held for fifth and sixth graders, both programs in observance of Children's National Dental Health Week Feb. 3-9.

The posters, which will be judged by local dentists, will be distributed and displayed throughout the two-city area.

On Feb. 6 Ms. Bobbie Tiseo and Ms. Cathy Larsen, dental hygienists from New Orleans, will visit first graders in both elementary schools to distribute the toothbrushes and instruct the children on proper dental care. They will be assisted by Junior Auxiliary members.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

About two weeks ago we went to an eye clinic in Gulfport to check our glasses, which seemed to us to need strengthening. After waiting for an hour, we were admitted to the doctor's private cubicle and he put a dozen or more lenses before each eye and had us look at the letters on a colored chart a few feet away from us: in other words, it was a standard, routine vision check. He dilated the pupils and pricked the eyeballs for signs of glaucoma. All of this took about fifteen minutes. He then informed us that our glasses were exactly right and needs no change, and that there was no sign of glaucoma.

This information was very pleasing. But then he spoiled it all by saying, "That will be twenty two dollars, please."

Twenty two dollars for a routine, fifteen-minute eye check! Today's figures show that a medical doctor's average annual income is about fifty thousand dollars, and we presume that an eye doctor's is the same; during the time we sat in his waiting room, fifty or more patients came and went (it is only fair to say that two other eye doctors shared the quarters with him.) But whatever the income — at twenty two dollars or more per patient — it was clear that our doctor was busily scratching paydirt out of a gold mine.

The people we saw in the waiting room did not look like Gulfport's wealthiest citizens. Obviously their clothes, while neat and clean, were well worn. One out of five or six was a black man or woman. Several appeared quite feeble; two were in wheelchairs.

All of which is a preamble to today's theme, which is greed, or "man's inhumanity to man". Why should a doctor — or any other man, squeeze the ultimate penny from someone less fortunate than he when he already has plenty for his needs, even luxuries? And why should a doctor pose as an humanitarian, one whose only purpose in life is to relieve disability and to restore hope and well-being? We don't think that our doctor restored much of anything except his own back account.

And why doesn't our beneficent government do something to prevent this gouging? Not one cent of the doctor's fees is recoverable from Medicare, nor is the cost of the expensive glasses he prescribes. The government gives you an extra allowance if you are totally blind, but up to that point you're on your own!

And why doesn't the sacrosanct A.M.A. take steps to restrain the avariciousness of its members? Some day the public will revolt against all this greed and selfishness and the medical profession will sink from the position of respect in which it is now held and be regarded as just another leech on the pocketbook of the average man. The Gulfport eye clinic would be a good place for the reform to begin.

Our Readers Write

Editor
The Jan. 20 issue of the Sun-Herald highlighted the life or should I say the political career of Senator Jim Eastland. Apparently he was born into politics.

I wasn't at all impressed until I read, "Eastland goes HOME to Mississippi nearly every weekend."

It went on to say that HOME is the "BIGGEST PLANTATION" in Sunflower County; more than 5,000 acres. Did anyone ever stop to think, that lots of our cities are not that large.

Since this description or accounting which covered space on pages 5A-6A-8A brought to light that Jim Eastland's father and grandfather were both powerful political figures, who did things their way, it went on to say that Jim, even though he apparently attended at least two colleges, Ole Miss and Vanderbilt, with degrees from neither, he was quite "always wheeling and dealing on campus, "behind the scene."

Consequently he got his law degree by reading books in his father's office.

With that kind of "wheeling and dealing record, I am sure many people wonder how many small farms in the neighborhood were swallowed up from the sales or maybe even legal sales for 25 cents or maybe $1.00 per acre to make up this 5,000 acre plus lucrative delta plantation?

Did wheeling and dealing prevail in this massive million dollar accumulation?

Again my interests wandered as I read on more or less out of curiosity until I came to the part that described his office.

It describes a picture of Mary Ann Mobley, a past Miss America, in a yellow taffeta ensemble and is inscribed, "To a great Statesman and loyal Mississippiian". Miss Mobley's dewy gaze falls on a mop with several "cotton fluffs" on it.

I wonder if Mary Ann would have made that inscription had she stopped to think how much those "cotton fluffs" cost the tax payers?

It is a published fact that at one time Senator Eastland was "collecting" over a million dollars a year, our tax dollars, not to plant this lucrative 5,000 acre paradise.

When the issue came up that too much money was being spent on these outrageous subsidies, Senator Eastland voted against reducing the payments.

10 YEARS AGO... We've all heard of hanging judges, but Nolan Ladner is the first we've known about who was literally "out for blood" last Thursday. His sentence to three minor offenders was one pint of blood to be given immediately to the blood bank at the drawing at the Legion home. The trio came through, although we're told that one of the harder-looking boys almost fainted! Incidentally, we mean the offense was minor, not the culprits!

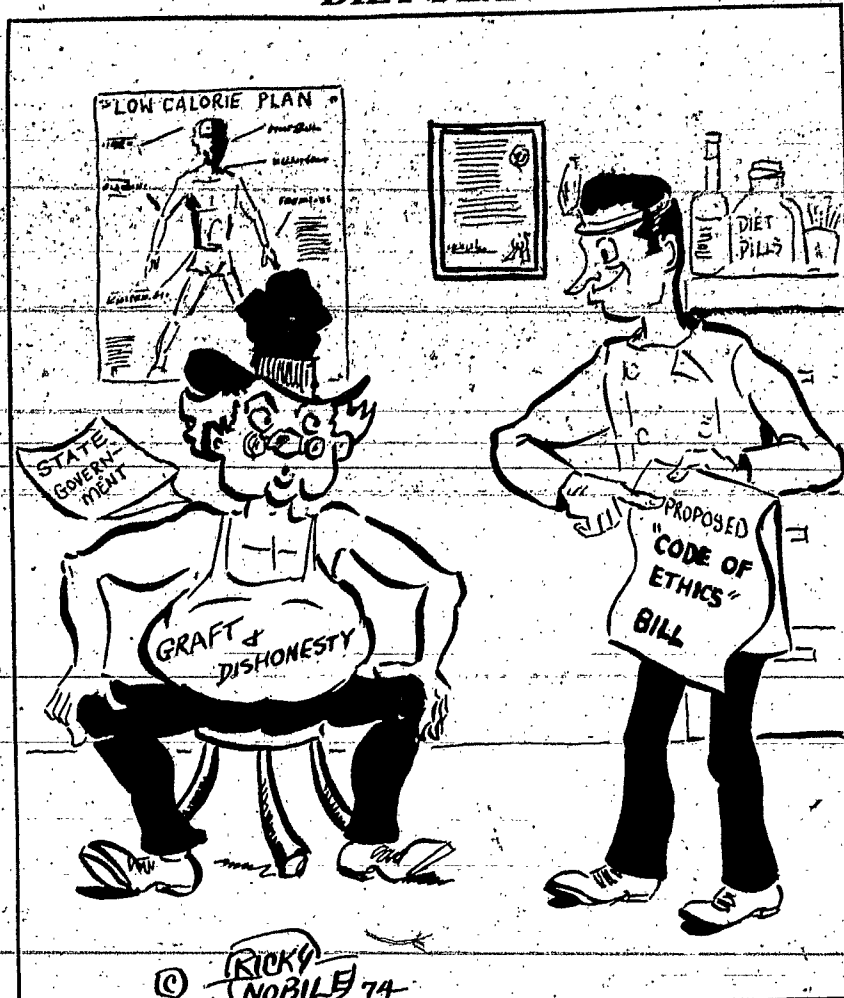

25 YEARS AGO... The Board of Supervisors from Hancock County, the Mayor and Commissioners of Bay St. Louis and other leading citizens met Monday for the purpose of discussing a proposed hospital for Hancock county.

50 YEARS AGO... Voters of Waveland will be called upon to vote for or against a proposed bond issue, the bonds to be used to defray the cost of building a seawall from one end of Waveland to the other.

Now who do you think this great statesman and loyal Mississippiian is loyal to??

The number of veterans taking advantage of the Education and Training benefits, judging from the number of applications that I prepare, seems to be very small. This is the opportunity of a lifetime for veterans to prepare themselves for their future and every effort should be made to take advantage of it.

V.A. Educational benefits pays to the single veteran $220 per month and $298 per month for a veteran with two dependents and $18 per month for each additional dependent after. It also pays for halftime study and three quarter time. The payment for half time is $110 for a single veteran; $149 for a veteran with two dependents; $9 for each additional dependent.

Night school is available at less than full time for those who find it impossible to attend full time.

Working and attending school is difficult, but the rewards both personal and financially will outweigh any hardships that are endured in getting this education, in future years.

To be eligible the veteran must have served on active duty for a continuous period of 181 days or more, part of which occurred on or after Feb. 1, 1955, unless discharged for a service connected disability. The veteran must also have received other than a dishonorable discharge. Entitlement to Educational Benefits is figured on 1 and a half days of school for each month, or fraction thereof, of active duty after Feb. 1, 1955. This entitlement to Educational Benefits may be issued at any time prior to eight years following discharge after Jan. 31, 1955. Veterans who served for 18 months or more after that date and were honorably discharged, are eligible for 36 months of educational assistance. A special supplemental allowance may be paid to a veteran to pay for a private tutor to correct an educational defect, to permit the veteran to satisfactorily pursue the chosen course above the high school level.

An one-the-job-training allowance is paid to veterans to assist them in learning a profession, up to 24 months. Payments start at $160 per month for a single veteran, which is in addition to what the employer pays. Additional pay is authorized for dependents. Eligibility requirements are the same as above and entitlement ceases eight years from discharge, after Jan. 31, 1955, or August 31, 1975 whichever is later.

NITRATE POISONING

Cattle are lost each year at this season from an illness termed "Nitrate Poisoning." Many of these losses can be prevented with the proper management of fertilization.

Nitrogen is essential for the growth of winter grazing crops and is needed in relatively large amounts as compared to other nutrients. The rate and time of nitrogen applications will largely determine the amount of forage produced and the season in which it is produced. The drastic increase in nitrogen costs as well as the possibility of livestock losses dictates that nitrogen fertilization be planned and timed if a profit is to be produced from winter grazing.

Nitrogen is a mobile nutrient in both the soil and plant and is constantly undergoing chemical change. In certain forms, it is highly toxic to livestock. "Nitrate Poisoning" is used as a general term to describe an animal illness resulting from: (1) nitrite formation, (2) ammonia toxicity and (3) nitrate induced vitamin A deficiencies. Nitrates in themselves are not toxic to livestock and all forages contain some nitrates. When nitrates are eaten by ruminants (cattle), they are broken down to ammonia and then converted by bacteria into protein; one of the intermediate products is nitrite. Excessive nitrate in forage produces excessive nitrite conversion. Nitrite absorbed into the blood stream reduces the blood's oxygen carrying capacity. This lack of oxygen causes staggered gait, muscular tremors, rapid and labored breathing and blue coloration of the mucus membranes. Animals actually die from asphyxiation. Acutely affected animals should be handled very easily and treated with 2 percent methylene blue solution.

To combat this problem the conditions which cause toxic concentrations to occur must be understood so that appropriate action can be taken when they occur. Nitrate poisoning is more likely to occur after periods of stress on the plant such as cold, cloudy weather when the soil is wet and cold. Excessive rates of nitrogen (over 60-70 lbs., N. at one application) may increase the danger of nitrate poisoning.

However, the severity of this problem is reduced if the soil is adequate in calcium, magnesium, sodium, phosphorus and potash or if the animal dies is adequately fortified with these elements. Under certain environmental conditions poisoning can occur regardless of precautions taken. The conditions are of much shorter duration (one to several hours) where plant nutrition is adequate. Therefore, under most conditions the critical period has passed before symptoms appear and cattle can be removed from the pasture.

The most practical prevention may be supplemental grain and/or hay, especially during periods of stress on the grazing plant, provided a complete fertilization program has been practiced.

The feeding of supplements containing urea on highly nitrated forage may increase danger of nitrate poisoning, so it is not recommended. Potholes in grazing area, from which cattle can drink, should be avoided during topdressing as they may accumulate high concentrations of nitrate. Also, when topdressing care should be taken to provide a buffer area around ponds that collect water directly from the highly nitrated fields. Wise use of nitrogen fertilizer during the winter and early spring is necessary to reduce the potential for toxicity problems and to produce a profit.

REPORT to the PEOPLE

ON ACTIVITIES OF INTEREST IN THE

MISSISSIPPI STATE SENATE

SPEAK WITH YOUR

LEGISLATORS every Thursday evening on QUORUM, an Educational Television broadcast which lets you hear and question your legislators on issues of concern to you. QUORUM features two toll free lines, 1-800-222-8003 outside Jackson or 948-9003 in the Jackson area, on which viewers may call in questions. Watch QUORUM on your local ETV station every Thursday evening during the legislative session from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23 THE HOUSE AND SENATE reached the first of a series of deadlines set up to facilitate completion of their work in the limited 90-day session. All bills of a general nature and constitutional amendments had to be introduced by midnight January 23. This deadline does not apply to appropriations, revenue, or local and private bills.

It is interesting to note that this Legislature, in response to the increasing needs of the state, has already had 874 bills introduced in its first 16 days. This compares with a total of 973 bills for the entire 1973 session. And the bulk of the appropriations, revenue, and local bills are yet to be introduced. TO THE AVERAGE CITIZEN THE BUSINESS OF MAKING LAWS may seem somewhat complicated and confusing. Each week we will discuss briefly one aspect of the legislative process. Last week we dealt with legislative floor action. This week we will take a look at the budget and appropriations system.

The budgetary process in Mississippi begins as far as a year and a half before requested funds are spent. An agency of state government must continuously monitor its present expenditures and plan for its future needs.

Budget requests are placed in a formal request to the Mississippi Commission of Budget and Accounting. The Budget Commission is composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, President Pro Tempore of the senate, Speaker of the House, chairmen of the appropriations committees of the House and the Senate, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and one additional Senator appointed by the Lieutenant Governor and two Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House.

At the beginning of August each year, the Budget Commission begins considering a proposed budget for the State of Mississippi. Each department in state government must appear before the commission to justify its request for a budget for the next fiscal year, which begins the following July 1. The Commission meets from August 1 through November 15.

After all requests are considered by the Commission, budget recommendations are made which take into account projected state revenues for the coming fiscal year. Once the Legislature convenes in January the proposed budget is presented, in the form of appropriations bills, to the appropriations committees of the two houses. Each department must then appear before the appropriations committees of the two houses where they again justify the request made earlier to the Budget Commission.

It is only after careful examination by the Budget Commission and the two legislative appropriations committees that an appropriation bill is brought to the floor of the House and Senate. Here an appropriation request must be explained, under questioning from the legislators, by the chairman of the appropriations committee before a final vote is taken. Once approved by both houses in identical form, the bill goes to the Governor for his signature.

Thus, every budget request made to the Legislature is subject to careful and thorough study before being acted upon. Through this lengthy budgetary process, the legislature can be assured that the taxpayers' money is being spent wisely and efficiently to meet the needs of the State.

(3) House Bill 902 - an act to provide an exemption of up to $20 for one vehicle per family household from road and bridge privilege taxes, Ad Valorem taxes, and tag fees; to define family household; to provide for reimbursement of local governments; to provide for implementing this act.

The following are bills now on the House Calendar awaiting floor action:

(1) House Bill 627 - Supervisors may hire office clerk.

WHAT WILL SIMON SAY?

Energy administrator William E. Simon, the man on the hot seat, probably holds the key to your vacation this summer — and even to those weekend spins in your pleasure boat. Beyond that, he holds the key to the tourist business we have come to expect and appreciate in the sunny climes of Mississippi's beautiful Fifth Congressional District.

Recognizing that so much does, indeed, rest with the decisions made by this powerful administrator, several of us in the House of Representatives recently sent Mr. Simon a letter, urging him to release — by the end of February — a set of general citizen guidelines for summer fuel use. We stressed that thousands of businesses and millions of people are in limbo over what the summer might bring.

The letter, signed by 41 members of Congress, reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned, are extremely concerned about the potential effect of the alleged fuel shortage during the upcoming summer months, when citizen travel and vacation activities are traditionally at their peak and when so many people and businesses depend upon the commerce that is generated during this season.

"The one glaring failure of the Federal government in the past has been the lack of advanced planning in the energy realm, but we feel that, with some prudent pre-planning, severe personal and economic hardships can be averted this summer, but the 'blue-priming' must begin now.

"Thousands of businesses and millions of citizens who vacation during the summer have no idea at present what to expect. Will there be mandatory gasoline rationing? Will there be fuel for pleasure boating? How much will we have to cut back air conditioner use? What other mandatory economies are likely to be imposed?

"While we fully appreciate the fact that the summer outlook depends in part on whether or not the Arab oil embargo is lifted, it seems that contingency plans can be developed now for either extreme and the shades between a total resumption of imports and no lifting of the embargo.

"We strongly urge you to issue a set of 'preliminary summer guidelines' for citizen fuel use before the end of February so an eleven-hour chaotic situation can be averted. We hope you will agree with us that a general outline of what citizens can expect this summer would go a long way toward adding stability to our economy and personal lives."

We must all realize, of course, that William Simon is not the culprit in this energy scenario. He merely inherited — as administrator of the Federal Energy Office — the overwhelming burden of bailing this nation out of a sticky situation.

He is charged with the responsibility of directing and conserving our energy supplies. He also has the unpleasant task of untangling the web of confusion brought on by fuel shortages.

If he is to avert national chaos this summer, however, he must look into the future and tell us what to expect as we plan the summer of 1974.

South Central Bell plans cable expansion

A major cable expansion, to link the Second Street building in Pass Christian with a new $2.5 million telephone office under construction at Bayou La Terre, was announced today by South Central Bell who said construction would require placing 113,000 feet of aerial, buried, submarine and underground cables.

F. M. Kyle, Jr., said work is scheduled to start during January and the new cable facilities would be placed in service during May, 1974.

Kyle also said that this program is another in a series of facility expansions planned to handle rising calling volumes—and increased requests for telephone service from one of the fastest-growing areas of the state.

Large cables will be placed between the Second Street building in Pass Christian and the new office at Bayou La Terre to funnel calls between the two locations and to amplify and strengthen telephone conversations so they will be clear and distinct," Kyle said. "The cable will be placed in existing conduit from Second Street to Clark Ave. From this point, aerial cables will parallel our present cable route along Clark, Hampton and Kildee Roads. We will complete the job by putting two sections of submarine cable under the Bayou Portage and Wolf River, connecting this cable with a cable presently buried under Interstate 10."

Kyle further added that South Central Bell plans a $109 million record program of service expansion and improvement during 1974 to meet the demand for telephone service in Mississippi.

Rotary seeks scholarship applicants

The Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis is seeking young men and women as candidates for Rotary Foundation educational awards for study abroad in the school year 1975-76.

Four types of educational awards are offered by the Foundation: Graduate fellowships, for those between the ages of 20 and 28, with a Bachelor's degree or equivalent; Undergraduate Scholarships, for those 18 to 24 with a minimum of two years of university level work but without a Bachelor's degree; Technical Training awards, for those 21 to 35 with a secondary education and at least two years' working experience; and, Teachers Awards for those 25 to 50 who have been engaged as fulltime teachers of the mentally, physically or educationally handicapped for at least two years at the time of application. All but the undergraduate scholarship recipients may be married. Each award covers round-trip transportation, educational and living expenses for one academic year, and, if necessary, funds for intensive language training.

The Rotary Foundation is a non-profit organization supported by contributions from Rotarians and Rotary clubs in 149 different countries. Since 1947, the Foundation has awarded more than US $20 million for its various programs, and more than 6300 young men and women have gone to countries other than their own for a year of study.

Rotarians and their relatives and dependents are ineligible for awards. Further information about these awards is available from Orrin H. Pilkey, 415 Piney Ridge Road, Waveland, Ms., 39576; Telephone 467-7755.

Seniors offered tax return help

Mr. T. H. Price, a former tax consultant now retired, and residing in the area, has volunteered his services to Senior Citizens who need assistance in preparing their income tax returns.

Interested seniors in need of help may call their respective County Senior Citizens Information & Referral offices for further details. Southern Mississippi Planning & Development District's Area-wide Model Project sincerely appreciates this generous volunteer offer and it should prove to be an asset to the elderly.

SAFE DRIVER OF THE YEAR for 1973 award was presented to Jacob W. Johns, 301 State St., Bay St. Louis by Nolan S. Ladner, left, representing the National Motorists Association of Mississippi, Inc. Mr. Johns received the citation for driving more than 3 million miles in 46 years without an accident.

Marionette creation is complex art

"It takes from two weeks to a month to make just one marionette," states Vincent Anthony, director of the famous Vagabond Marionettes who appeared January 30 at Bay Junior High School auditorium.

Three performances were presented to kindergarten through third graders in the Bay-Waveland Area free of

"The entire body of our string puppets is hand-carved out of bass wood, which is the hardest wood to be found for our use. The heads and hands are made of a remarkable substance called celastic. After the body is finished it is costumed, as each of our shows is styled after one particular period of history. It also adds great authenticity to our programs. After costuming the puppet is strung with a nylon string and put on a control device used to make the marionette move. The process is long and tedious, but the results are rewarding. Our marionettes are valued at between $150 and $200 per puppet. Of course the audience is always invited to come back after our performance and look at the marionettes, but not touch," adds Mr. Anthony.

The group presented the familiar favorite, Jack and The Beanstalk. Mr. Anthony believes that "humans bridge the gap between puppets and people." Hence he often uses people in his shows, as he did when his partner Mitchell Edmonds, who also does the sets, appeared in the role of the Giant in "Jack and the Beanstalk."

Six music students from St. Stanislaus High School participated in the 20th Annual Lumberton Invitational Band Clinic held in Lumberton, Miss.

keeping you in touch

By F. M. Kyle, Jr. Gulf Coast District Manager

The beginning of a new year is a good time to look back on what you have been able to do in the past year and look ahead to ways you might do things better in the coming year. During the past year we were building so your phone would serve you better, be more reliable and so phones could be available for even more people in Mississippi.

In this area, for example, we expanded our cable facilities along Highway 603 and Kiln Road, added cable to the Lower Bay Road, Lakeshore, Ansley and Clermont Harbor areas, plus additional cable along Old Spanish Trail and Central Avenue. We began construction on the new Bayou LaTerre Central Office in the Diamond Head and Standard areas, plus other expansion and improvement projects.

We plan more additions and improvements in 1974; like additional cable in the Lower Bay Road area and Lakeshore, Ansley and Clermont Harbor areas plus extensive work in the Standard and Diamond Head areas, plus other expansion and improvement projects.

During the year, we will try to keep you in touch with progress on our expansions as well as give you information about ways to get the most value from your telephone. Here is a savings reminder right now: Sunday rates are lower during the day before 5 P.M., so if Sunday is your favorite time for a family visit by long distance, make those calls before 5 P.M. and save. Dial direct, and save even more.

USM sponsors Tennis America

The University of Southern Mississippi will sponsor a "Tennis America" clinic Feb. 8-10 at USM's Hattiesburg campus.

"Tennis America", owned by 1973 Wimbledon women's singles champion, Billy Jean King, and her coach, Dennis Van der Meer, is a new method of teaching tennis devised by the duo based on a knowledge of how people learn. It stresses group teaching instead of private lessons.

The USM clinic will consist of two groups which meet either Friday night and Saturday morning or Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon.

Interested persons should contact the Department of Conferences and Workshops, Southern Station, Box 56, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39401.

Rain, rain go away is the cry of most sportsmen these days. We have had a lot of it lately with no let up. The streams are swollen, the lakes and ponds full and the woods saturated. Fishing is almost out and what is left of hunting will be a thing of the past come next month.

Have heard very little about hunting except a few geese are still being killed out in the marsh.

Talked to some quail hunters and they said hunting the prized birds is sorry.

Most sportsmen have hopes that the soft crab and flounder seasons will be better this year than last. These sports are coming up next month. If the weather gets warm and stays that way for a while it may help a lot.

Checking on the tide, there hasn't been a low tide in the afternoon for weeks. Green trout fishing has been mediocre with a few being caught where good water can be found. No use going until things get better. But who wants to stay home?

Repeating again those venturing out to the marsh report catching some nice red fish and speckles.

Those fishing closer to shore are not doing too hot at this time. Of course, a few fish can be caught most any old time by accident.

Ever notice crawfish mud hills in your yard in wet weather? With a small piece of meat tied on a string and lowered into the hole you can bring the crawfish to the surface where they can be caught and used for bait when fishing for bass and perch with a cane pole. Sounds fishy but that's the way we got them when we were kids. Try it! They make excellent bait for the above fish.

Was a pleasure talking to John McDonald the other day. John is much improved since his recent illness. Stated it will be slow going getting back to normal, however.

Had an unexpected visit Friday night with Airman Bryan Haggerty, Eddie Haggerty and Clay Hubbs. The boys were on their way to New Orleans. They are planning a fishing trip here soon. Enjoy fishing, crabbing, and such.

Despite the inclement weather Sunday, Andrew Nelson and his wife caught some fish in a local pond. This couple do quite a bit of fishing and are good at catching the finny tribe.

Speaking of local ponds they are about the only places where perch and bass have been caught lately. They are shallow ponds and the waters clear quickly. Among them are Colley's Pond, and D. Dodson's Pond down Clermont Harbor way. Another good place for fly fishing and casting for fresh water fish is at Petash Bayou. It is located on the L & N railroad near La France's Camp at Ansley.

Tubby Necaise has finished a new cast net. Said he is going to give mullets the dickens when they start giving. Tubby calls his cast net his gun when it comes to getting 'em.

Henry Capdepon said that his son Henry, Jr., was on his way back to Okinawa after a furlough spent in Bay St. Louis with the family. Henry, Jr., is in the Marines.

Gene Juninger came over this weekend to take Rosa Lee and Tony Benigno back with him for a visit to Florida. Pretty sure they will do some fishing while in the Florida State. Gene is a former barber from Bay St. Louis. He now lives at Fort Pierce, Fla.

The channel mullet or ground mullet are often overlooked by fishermen as a good eating fish. They are caught regularly when speckles, red fish and the like are being gotten in salt water. Ground mullet are a solid fish and can be made into a courtbouillon or baked or even fried when small and flleted. Dead or frozen shrimp are excellent bait for catching them.

Spring weather should be just around the corner. For those who don't use a fly rod or do casting but use the old familiar perch or slaughter pole it is time to locate places where earth worms, crickets, grasshoppers, crayfish, grass shrimp or minnows can be found. They can be gotten with little effort and at no cost. Bass and perch go for them. Minnows and grass shrimp can be found in good size ditches. Also tad poles and small frogs. The whole family can enjoy catching fish by this method. Most shallow lakes and small bayous can be fished from the bank. No boat is needed. Likable spots are the bayous out Blue Meadow Road and around the end of Main Street. You might think this is the baloney, but it's true. Try fishing—it is good for what ails you.

Sheldon Seuzeneau had to lay off golf for a little while on account of an injured back. He is o.k. again, from reports.

St. Rose sweeps doubleheader at Kiln

St. Rose swept two Division B games from Annunciation in Gulf Coast Western Conference basketball action last Friday night in Kiln. The St. Rose girls won handily 22-17 while the St. Rose boys team escaped with a 30-28 overtime win.

The girls' game opened almost a comedy of errors as both teams were plagued with multiple turnovers. Annunciation lost the ball 11 times and St. Rose turned it over eight times themselves.

The ice was broken with 3:13 left in the first quarter when Cynthia Collins of St. Rose hit an eight foot set shot. Seconds later Collins came up with a steal to put two more points on the board. Phyllis Breazeale answered with a 15 foot jumper for Annunciation. Collins hit a third field goal to end the quarter with St. Rose ahead 6-3.

The second quarter started out looking like a repeat of the first until Janet Sheppard, St. Rose's little rover, took the ball in for four points. Farren Archer added two more. Annunciation continued to go to Breazeale and Gina Haas for their points in the second quarter but couldn't overcome a 12-6 scoring lead at halftime.

Annunciation looked like a new team when they came out for the third quarter. Their defense tightened and the offense poured in eight points. Their defense clicked. Doris Ladner put a lid on St. Rose for almost four minutes with inspired defensive play. The Annunciation offense came alive. Phyllis Breazeale put away four and Kim Cuevas and Gina Haas added two apiece. Annunciation tied the score in the third quarter 14-14.

St. Rose came back to dominate the fourth quarter. Their defense fought back and the offense poured in eight points. Janet Sheppard sank two buckets for four points while Collins and Ferren Archer added two apiece. This combination was enough to clinch the game for St. Rose. Phyllis Breazeale led all scorers in a losing cause with 12 points. Cynthia Collins bucketed 10 and Janet Sheppard put away eight for the victors.

St. Rose's boys pulled away in an overtime contest 30-28. It appeared in the beginning that St. Rose would make a cake walk of the game. St. Rose left the court with a 10-0 lead in the first quarter when Annunciation couldn't seem to get anything working.

The second quarter was a comeback quarter for Annunciation. The Wildcats managed to go to Wayne Hoda and Martin Curet underneath and Chris Martin hit from the outside. Annunciation scored eight points but couldn't stop the hot hand of Nicky Price for St. Rose who had 10 points by the middle break. Cedric Hazeur dominated the boards and managed to keep the ball in St. Rose's possession. St. Rose took an 18-8 lead to the lockers at halftime.

The third period belonged to Annunciation. Chris Martin plugged the hole with eight points and reserves Greg Strief, Terry Smiley and Paul Haas teamed up for eight more. Tony La Bateau and Hazeur scored four points for St. Rose who trailed now for the first time in the game 24-22.

The fourth period saw St. Rose tie the score with the shooting of Price. Christ Martin accounted for Annunciation's four points and the game went into overtime 28-28.

The overtime was all defense until Price scored for St. Rose with 1:40 to go. Then LaBateau stole the ball and the last minute was St. Rose's as they put on a picture book stall which the Wildcats couldn't break. St. Rose moved into second place in the B division of the conference.

Around the conference, Gulfview A boys continued their winning streak by downing St. Stanislaus 57-36. Russel Seay scored 24 points to lead scoring. Brian Shivers followed with 19 and Loren Strong contributed 12.

The Conference A division tournament starts today at Gulfview School in Lakeshore. The final Division A standings for the Gulf Coast Western Conference are:

| BOYS | |

Legion boxing team scores in La. matches

Members of the Bay St. Louis American Legion Boxing team distinguished themselves in the Mississippi-Louisiana Silver Gloves tournament last weekend. Joseph Pavallini and Gregory Williams won bouts in their respective weights and all of the legion team entrants placed in the quarter finals. Several members of the Bay-Waveland group reached the semi-finals. David Carver was a runner-up in the 80 pound class.

Coach Harvey Mitchell praised team members for their individual showings as they competed against experienced clubs most of whom had considerably more training than the local youths, he said.

This weekend team members will travel to Hattiesburg for the South Mississippi Golden Glove tournament, slated to be held on the Univ. of Southern Miss. campus.

Future itinerary plans include participation in the Region IV Golden Gloves meet in Kenner, La. and Feb. 16 in the legion club will host a show in Bay St. Louis.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK is the son Nelson, who takes part in most sports, especially hunting, fishing and crabbing. He seems to like rabbit hunting best, however.

size bobcat last week. On the same hunting trip they spotted a panther. Panthers are not uncommon in this part of the country but have heard of only a few being killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoffman, Debbie, Virginia and Barbara visited us Sunday. They are all waiting to come over to fish, crab and flounder. Don't think it will be too long.

Statement by
Melvin "Mel" Villere,

Candidate for Mayor of Waveland

Together We Can Get Better Things For Waveland

If you agree with me on the obvious fact that now is the time for a change in Waveland, and you elect me your Mayor, one of my first acts would be to modify the functions of all employees of Waveland, with special emphasis on the crew that maintain roads, right-of-ways and ditches.

Presently, there is no set system of work for these men. There are approximately 20 men and one foreman, working the same way they operated 20 years ago. In the meantime, about six years ago Waveland voters elected to annex an additional area north of the railroad tracks to the other side of Highway 90. This gives an additional 20 or 30 miles of roads and ditches to be maintained, with no change or adaptation in the system to get the work done for everybody.

The work is assigned without regard for the needs of the situation, and residents of some wards do not see this work force from one year to the next, while others see them nearly every week.

This is not fair representation for the residents, the taxpayers, who pay the salaries of the work crew. A change is needed, and a change supervised by a Full Time Mayor who will get the job done.

The present was fine 10, 15, and 20 years ago when Waveland was small and not developed. This changed as Waveland grew, and the voters of Waveland elected to annex the additional land on the north side of the railroad tracks to the other side of Highway 90. These people pay taxes and they should be considered in our plans...plans, however, that are designed for the 1970's and not the 1940's.

Now that we have studied the problems that we now face, here is my recommended solution:

Waveland is divided into four separate political divisions—Wards 1, 2, 3, and 4. I would assign five men of the 20 men working to one particular ward in its entirety from the beach to the other side of the highway. I would select one of the five to be a working foreman. He would receive 25 cents an hour increase in pay. All four work forces would be under the supervision of one general foreman. This way each ward would have men, not one day or one week, but for the entire year. It would be the assigned work force's job and responsibility to work for one particular ward.

Each ward has a representative in the form of an Alderman. The Aldermen are elected by the voters themselves and it will be the obligation of the Aldermen to respond to the voice of the residents. Thus, if the work is not getting done properly, it is the duty of each respective Alderman to find out why. Only a Full Time Mayor can do this job working with the Aldermen and the crews and Foreman's to get results in every section of town.

With the increased area and additional roads, right-of-ways and ditches to be worked, it may be that the present work-force is inadequate to get the job done. I don't think anybody will disagree when I say that the job isn't being done.

LOOK AT OUR ROADS AND DITCHES TODAY
If elected Mayor I will make it my duty to find the answer to the problem, whether it is insufficient manpower or the present system or poor supervision.

If elected, I pledge to you that I will close my construction business and devote my full time to being a FULL TIME MAYOR for Waveland.

Waveland's future is my future.

Let me take this opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude for the warm reception I have been receiving from the public. To the people that I have not been able to personally contact, let me, at this time, take just a few words to express my sincerity in my plea for your support and help in the coming election. The fact that Waveland has grown so much in the past few years makes it virtually impossible to personally contact each individual family.

I NEED YOUR HELP IN BRINGING ABOUT THE MUCH NEEDED CHANGES IN WAVELAND.
WAVELAND IS A GREAT AND PROUD LITTLE TOWN (OOP'S - I'M SORRY, I MEAN CITY).

LET'S CONTINUE TO MAKE WAVELAND A BIGGER AND BETTER CITY.

YOU CAN HELP ME BY VOTING ---

Melvin R. (Mel) Villere,

ON ELECTION DAY --- Saturday, Feb. 9, 1974.

(Pd. For By Melvin "Mel" Villere)
